

English Homework

This week in English, we have been practising writing descriptive sentences.

The children have been practising writing expanded noun phrases, conjunctions, adverbs and prepositional starters.

This week for homework, please can you write descriptive sentences about the following picture.

An example sentence:

Beyond the dense, dark trees, there was a sandy, brick house where a family of four live although no one had seen them in quite a while.

English Homework

This week in English, we have been practising writing descriptive sentences.

The children have been practising writing expanded noun phrases, conjunctions, adverbs and fronted adverbials for place.

This week for homework, please can you write descriptive sentences about the following picture.

An example sentence:

Beyond the dense, dark trees, which were blowing rapidly in the cool breeze, there was a sandy, brick house where a family of four live although no one had seen them in quite a while.
