Use your hand today as a unit of measurement.

Look around your house—what items can you find that are shorter than your hand?

What items can you find that are the same length as one of your hands?

What items can you find that are longer than your hand?

Items shorter than my hand	Items the same length as my hand	Items longer than my hand

Draw or write the items in each column