

I saw him at the edge of the room. The man, who was clearly hungry, was clasp onto the wall, trying to stand up. His hair stuck to his head like glue and his clothes were all torn and ripped. Under each of his arms, he held a bag. One was bright pink, while the other, was brown and more formal looking.

His eyes looked sad and no matter how often someone came up to him to ask him a question, he never looked up at them. His body, which was old and frail, seemed to be hiding dark the secrets from his past. I could see small scars scattered from his head to his toes. This was a man who had lived a tough life.
